Hey fellas... how about having a shot at line dancing... before you tee-off?

Never mind about the game just yet... try to look like "Tiger Wood" for now... there you go guys... with your good looks...even if you don't get to be the champion...who cares

Psss't Albert... how about trading that lucky draw prize of yours for my S-Yard driver... you know ... that Thai massage gift voucher that you won...

Keen competition with 76 golfers including 2 SGX officials

Poor Weather turns Tourney into a friendly game

A heavy downpour in the afternoon on Sunday (October 1) turned our keenly contested annual tournament among 76 golfers into just a friendly game. The organising committee decided to abandon the competition about an hour before all golfers could complete their 18-hole rounds.

This year's inter-stockbroking company golf tournament again drew a strong response from the enthusiasts in our industry. The forth-annual event was held at Southlinks Country Club, Batam.

Making their first appearance were 2 SGX officials, Mr Peter Chia and Mr Daniel Tan, who were our guest players at the event.

As there was no winner emerged from the competition, the defending champion, the Lum Chang team, retained the Challenge Trophy for another year.

For the lucky draw, Tan Siam Hang of Keppel Securities walked away "effortlessly" with the top prize – a S-Yard T302 GD Driver worth S$1,450 which was sponsored by Transview Golf. The other top prizes included one single-return air-ticket to Bangkok sponsored by Sunny Holidays, a Maruman Shuttle U-4 titanium Driver worth S$850 also by Transview Golf, and one single-return air-ticket to Hong Kong.

The equity investment unit of Citibank was again the main sponsor who provided golf caps for all participants, the winning trophies, and golf bags and golf balls for the lucky draw.

Kudos to Albert Fong of UBS Warburg, who is also the Vice President of the Society, Ng Chee Seng (DBS Securities), Michael Lim(DMG), Dellice Tay (Millennium), John Wee (JM Sassoon) and Amy Sze (OCBC Securities) for successfully organising the event.

The organising committee wishes to say a big thank you to our generous sponsors, the stockbroking companies, which sponsored their respective participating teams, and the golfers for their participation.
