

ANTSSYS STRIKES GOLD AND OIL

By Neil P

We received this email from a reader who has taken up the trial period for the ANTSSYS trading on the Esignal platform. It's also available on with Oanda on the MT4 platform. Usually we don't turn these emails into an article but we think this is an interesting email. Editor.

I have spent the last few days applying the ANTSSYSS system to provide the most consistent results in oil and gold. It's as though the ANTS were designed for Gold and Oil.

The rules remain the textbook 321 suite of the ANTSSYS trading strategy. The 3 provides the direction, the 2 gives the confirmation and we trade the 1.

Across all of the days I have had available to me to test I have been getting a very consistent result. The trend is considerably more 'predictable' I look for ANTS firing VERY close to or ON the 300EMA.

This has the effect of giving us several winning trades for every movement. I have attached a screenshot, taken very recently (you can quite literally pick a day and there are winners after winners) and I have drawn the entries within the rules I have described.

Here is a screen grab taken right this moment from Gold, where it's another crystal example of the system working for well over 45 ticks.

Here are a few screen grabs of the US NYMEX Oil Chart. I apply the same 321 rule, with a small 'tweak' in that I take each trade in line with the higher size (3 and 2) where we only need to see a colour change in the MA crossover to be sufficient to take the trade. In a practical display, red or green ANTS can be taken as long as the higher sizes are in support in either a RED/RED, GREEN/GREEN or COLOUR/AMBER colour. So, 1:Red/Green 2:Amber 3:Amber is ok.

I then apply a very tight stop and take profit, only taking trades which are VERY close or ON the 300EMA.

The screen shot shows each trade as it happened. I use a firm ANTS Zone study which clearly shows the trades as they arrive.

As you can see, with these rules we have seen traders of +82, +32, +25, +24, -6, -5, +18, +46, +47... That's +263 (Opportunity Trades) generated before the US open!

To say these results have been mind-blowing would be polite. Thank you for all the work you and you team have done in developing this trading method.
